

Authorship

Each contributor should meet all four criteria specified below (i.e., A, B, C, and D).

A. Contributor certifies that:

The contribution represents the Contributor's valid work and neither this contribution nor one with substantially similar content under Contributor's authorship has been published or is being considered for publication elsewhere, except as described in an attachment, and copies of any closely related manuscripts are provided.

If requested, Contributor will provide the data or will cooperate fully in obtaining and providing the data on which the contribution is based for examination by the editors or their assignees.

For manuscripts with more than one contributor, Contributor agrees to allow the Corresponding Contributor to serve as the primary correspondent with the editorial office, to review the edited typescript and proof, and to make decisions regarding release of information in the contribution to the media, federal agencies, or both; or, if Contributor is the only contributor, Contributor will be the Corresponding Contributor and agree to serve in the roles described above.

B. Contributor has given final approval of the submitted contribution.

C. All listed contributors participated sufficiently in the authorship of the work (i.e., contributing to the content of the work) to take public responsibility for at least part of the content therein (check one of two below):

- part of the content
 all of the content

D. The Corresponding Contributor certifies that all listed contributors have made substantial contributions to the intellectual content of the work in at least one of the following ways:

- conception and design
 acquisition of data
 analysis and interpretation of data drafting of the contribution
 critical revision of the contribution for important intellectual content statistical analysis
 obtaining funding
 administrative, technical, or material support
 supervision
 no additional contributions
 other (specify)
